Dear Parent/Carer

Next Steps – Wednesday 11th July

On the morning of 11th July we are holding a year 12 information morning entitled 'Next Steps'. The aim is to advise students on how research and choose a course at university, whether this be a traditional degree, a foundation degree or a degree apprenticeship. Choosing the right course and place to study requires considerable research and our aim is to ensure our students understand the process and are able to use the right search tools. This will enable them to begin their search over the summer.

We have speakers from the University of Sussex and the University of Portsmouth, plus a number of past Sackville students who are going to relate their experiences. We believe that after this session the students will be better able to assess all their educational options and make informed decisions.

The morning begins at 8.50 and all year 12 students must attend, even if they are unsure about whether they are applying for college or university, as a lot can change from now until this time next year!

There will be more detailed follow up sessions about the application process in September but it is important that all students attend this session on the 11th July in order to receive maximum benefit from those in the autumn.

Yours sincerely

Claire H. Bach
